

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA. FRIDAY EVENING AUGUST 8, 1919

WHY BE A BOLSHIEVİK?

A Communication

It is just as true today as it was a couple of hundred years ago when the original John Smith informed his bunch of slackers in the woods along the James river that "he who does not work cannot eat."

We make this observation at this time because we are going far afield to secure a moral with which to adorn our tale.

When Smith and his early colonists were seeking to evade starvation, as well as the war club of old Powhatan and his red warriors, a couple of barbers in the outfit decided that as barbers were scarce they would lay off on Thursday afternoon and let George and the rest of the fellows till the soil and bring in the beans. It worked alright for a time, too, as a recent advance in the price of "trimming" the Colonists had caused the barbers to wax fat and they were swelled up like real class or soaked dried apples. When some of the other fellows saw how easy it was for the barbers they envied the same procedure and also decided to lay off Thursday afternoon. They picknicked and danced while poor Smith and the rest of the rubes blistered their hands getting in the crops and moulding bullets for the blunderbusses in the evening.

Pretty soon there were more loafers than there were workers and demerit was to pay generally. The bottom of the community flour barrel was daily getting closer to the top while Powhatan's young men and Pocahontas were each day edging closer to the palisades guarding the settlement.

Then old Smith asserted himself. He called up the barbers and all the other Bolshievists and proceeded to lay down the law. We've mislaid our notes of his speech, but the gist of it was that the barbers were ordered back to work and the famous proclamation given in the opening paragraph was nailed on convenient trees. It worked, too, and so did the barbers then. And ever since, or until recently at least, it was the generally accepted American idea that the laborer was worthy of his hire, the Divine command, "six days shalt thou labor and on the seventh (only) rest," was good politics, and the welfare of the world predicated upon those two propositions of compensation and supply and demand.

This old world generally has made a pretty fair success of it since hewing to those lines. Of course we were not all constituted alike but the run of the mine average the world over arranged for about an even divide or a fifty-fifty basis between labor and pleasure.

In the general scheme of things when the genus homo turned up more or less crippled mentally or physically and some times in the nut class both ways from the middle, with a positive antipathy for work, he was made into a barber after about six weeks training at a barber college and allowed to inflict himself on an unsuspecting community.

Large and copious facial shrubbery or curtains were the order of the early day and the barber was tolerated for shearing purposes when fence corners were rid out and hedges trimmed in into the pleasurable mysteries and delicacy of green corn on the cob the barber was soon very much in demand. Corn on the cob and extensive facial shrubbery have long been taboo in polite society, but as this was in the days when table manners or etiquette was in its infancy the operation of filling our ancestors full of green corn on or "off" the cob was attended with more or less pain and every male member of the colony lost a half hour after meal time combing his whiskers out of his teeth. Smith solved the problem by ordering the removal from around and about the port of food entry of all hirsute effluvia, and as a result the whiskers were cut away from every possible contact with the corn or cob and great was the joy of the natives. Thus originated the colonial style of whiskers.

The barber accepted his humble lot, filled his appointed niche while filing divers and sundry nicks in the lips and chops of his victims. He later took on greater degree of importance when changing styles disposed of "face curtains" to a much greater degree.

Come a time even later when the barber was accepted as an evil or affliction to be endured without great complaint and people even got so freckled as to pay him in larger volume than he expected to receive or his demands amounted to if allowed to extablish and fix his own emoluments. But times have changed and even barbers as well and the poor, down-trodden "evil to be endured" has become drunk with his own importance and affluence and has gone so far that he now essays the role of tyrant bold and has already succeeded in getting away with it.

Having once tasted of the fleshpots he refuses to be denied and irrespective of the warning about putting Lazarus astride Pegasus he is now engaged in the perilous pastime of riding down the goose which accounted for the 18 karat egg when it was fresh.

Having progressed thus far, Mr. Editor, we are now going to tell you why we are mad. The local barbers, as noted by reading your paper, will advance August 11 next the price of shaves thirty three and one-third per cent. and will go this one better by adding forty per cent. to the price exacted or extracted for a hair cut. Shades of Lenin, Trotsky, Bela Kun and the many other long-haired Bolshievist foes of humanity, whether are we drifting? Whence the end?

If the barber, who only a few short months ago made a similar boost in his prices which netted him so much unearned increment that he can afford to shut up shop and rest one-half day per week and any other time he feels like it, what guarantee have we that now that he again will line his purse with the poor man's gold that he won't shut down another half day or a day or for that matter quit for all time. Then where will we be at? I ask you?

If the barber's raise is necessary, and he says it is, why not the butcher add 15 cents per pound to his beef-steak, the grocer hang 15 cents per pound on his coffee, the coal man 15 cents per bushel on coal, the shoe dealer forty per cent. or 34 to a pair of shoes, the clothing merchant $10 each to his $40 suits, while we know the barber would not object to have his own line of reasoning carried out by his landlord who would be or will be justified in raising the barbers $20 per month rent to $30. We hope the landlord does because he ought to have it, the barber says so and he knows.

According to government statistics the cost of living has increased some 60 or 70 per cent in the past few years, the local barbers have increased their prices of shaving and hair cutting each one hundred per cent. in the past six months and who knows but when they begin to live fat on the bloody sweat of we poor laboring men they will take another day off and boost their prices another hundred.

Whether are we drifting and where and what will be the end? We shudder even to think of the possibilities. If this be not Bolshevism to the nth degree, what might it not be? Who will make reply?

In those olden days quoted herewith barbers were called "trimming" and a barber was said to "trim the people." How appropriate now. What?

COMMISSIONERS TAX SALE YIELDS LARGE AMOUNT

The recent County Commissioners' tax sales netted the county something over $10,000. There was a total of 322 properties on the list and every one was disposed of. Of this number 285 were of seated lands, the remaining 37 being unseated.

These sales were held under the original tax sales laws of 1815 and 1844. Amended and brought up to date through amendment in 1915 brought about largely through the activities of Commissioners' Clerk L. C. Norris, who is recognized throughout the State as an authority on the tax sales law and who delivered an address on the subject before the last State convention of County Commissioners which received very favorable mention from hundreds of county officials present.

A wise provision under this amended law saves the homes of poor people from sale for taxes by allowing the Poor District of the county to step in and acquire the property at tax sale and then instead of disposing of the property owner of his home allows him to remain thereon, have the Poor District assume the yearly taxes and enter them as a charge against the property and at the death of the owner the county will receive the taxes when a settlement of the estate is made.

The tax records of Clearfield county

is now on file in the County Comptroller's office and being used as much as for many of the counties of the State. Credit for our system is largely due to Clerk Norris and former County Solicitor A. M. Liveright.

MERCHANTS BEHIND IN PAYMENT OF MERCANTILE TAX

About one hundred merchants or other persons liable for mercantile tax in Clearfield county have so far failed to pay up for 1918 taxes, due July 1st. County Treasurer Kline extended the time some three weeks out of the goodness of his heart, but nearly one hundred failed to appreciate the extension and come across and at the instance of the Auditor General, under the law, these claims had to be left with a Justice of the Peace for collection and suit has been brought in each case which will necessitate the payment of costs with the tax.

ROBERTS HAS NOT ACCEPTED LATAST CHALLENGE

Niagara Falls, Aug. 5, 1919
Sporting Editor Progress

Dear Sir, I received several copies of your paper sent me by friends of mine in Clearfield and wish to thank you for having my challenge that I sent to Leslie Roberts of Boardman printed, but sorry to say that up to date I have not received any reply from Roberts or his manager in regards to my challenge. Maybe that $1000 side bet is bothering them, but as I am anxious to meet Roberts I am willing to meet him on any terms he wishes. If they don't want to bet I will wrestle for per centage of gate receipts just so long as I get the match. Now I think that if Roberts is the man they claim he is he would accept this challenge at once as I am sure it's a very liberal one. Hope you will find space in your paper for these few lines as I wish to show his friends that I am trying every way possible to get this match with him.

Yours very truly
M. HENDERSON

IT IS NOT FAR TO YORK STATE

The following items taken from the Watkins (N. Y.) Review of July 16th, would make it appear that the average rural New Yorker, not the potato of that name, is not seriously discommoded by the high cost of living. At least it should not appeal to him as it does to the average Clearfelder. Here they are:

Butter, Eggs and Berries
(Naples Record.)
Eggs, 42 cents per dozen.
Butter, 40 cents per pound.
The berry pickers in this section are earning big wages this year, the price paid being from four to five cents per quart for the picking. The average picker will score from 100 to 150 quarts per day during the good picking, and some less at the end of the season when the berries are more scarce.

Blackcap raspberries are bringing the highest price ever known for what is termed "green"—27 cents per quart. And this in the face of an unusually large crop. Grapes also promise to be an abundant crop, and present indications are for a good price; the manufacture of wine being prohibited, the crop will go into grape juice, jam, etc.

A Middlesex correspondent says: 600 laying hens at Hickory Grove Farm are laying 20 dozens of eggs daily, which net the owner 61 cents per dozen. The cost of feed is around $4 per day which makes a net income of $5.20 per day.

WILL DRIVE TRUCK IN POLAND

Harry Bartley, who has been overseas with the A. E. F. for the past eleven months, has enlisted for four months service in Poland, according to word received by his mother yesterday. Two mechanical units of 250 men each have been recruited by voluntary enlistment at Base Section No. 5 in France, to go to Poland for the purpose of teaching men and women how to operate, drive, care for and repair American motor transportation and steam sterilizing apparatus. They will have four months service in Poland and will not lose their army grade or pay while in this service.

If Kidneys And Bladder Bother

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize irritating acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder, and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

NEWS OF
OUR

CURWENSVILLE

HELD OVER FROM YESTERDAY

Thomas Humphrey is reported ill at his farm home near the Bloom bridge. His many friends in this place are hoping that his illness may not prove of a fatal nature.

S. Dorsey Griffith, former owner and proprietor of the Park House, now located in Pittsburgh, came to Curwensville yesterday and will spend several days in town with his wife who arrived a few days ahead of him. They are the guests of Mrs. A. M. Kirk.

Prof. Bliss, of Ridgway, is a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Kirk. It will be remembered that the Prof. taught music in the Curwensville public schools several years ago.

The board of health at a regular meeting held on Monday evening, passed an ordinance prohibiting the spitting on the sidewalks within the borough limits. Cards notifying the prohibition and the penalty attached for a violation of the law will be posted in conspicuous places throughout the town within the next two or three days. This is a good movement for the healthfulness of the town.

Mrs. I. H. Landy and daughter Gertrude, who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson for a week past, left for their home in Washington, D. C., yesterday.

Miss Josephine Thompson, of Williamsport, is visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orr Thompson. The young lady holds a responsible position in the largest store in Williamsport, and came up to her old home to spend her vacation among kin-folks.

The saw mill, owned and operated by the Bickford refractories company and located on the Orr Norris farm, was burned to the ground on Monday evening. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, as the men who were employed on the mill had taken every precaution against fire before leaving the mill, even to throwing water around in spots where sparks might have alighted. This is the second time for the burning of this mill.

Earl McFadden, who for several years had been foreman of the hard clay mines for the Bickford people, has resigned his situation with that company, and has accepted a similar one with the Swank brothers, of Johnstown, whose mines are near Faunce.

B. Ramond, of Elmira, N. Y., who represents the LaFrance company of that city, and from whom this borough has purchased a motor truck fire engine arrived in town yesterday. He informed The Progress representative that the engine had been shipped from the factory over a week ago, and that he was looking for its arrival by every train. When it arrives he will give demonstrations for the benefit of the local firemen, and also teach them how to operate it. The apparatus will not be taken off the company's hands until representatives of the Underwriters Association arrive and inspect it and see that the engine will do the work as has been represented. It may be several weeks yet before the final test is made, and if it meets the approval of all parties concerned, it only remains for the borough to accept it and pay the money over.

By L. C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—Congress this afternoon was ready to hear the most momentous message from the lips of the President since the declaration of war. All doubt that the President would appear before a joint session of both legislative bodies as scheduled disappeared when a roll call was made shortly after the House convened and it was seen that a quorum was on hand. It had been feared that less than one-half of the members of the house were in Washington. A resolution authorizing the joint session of the senate and the house was passed by the House immediately after the roll call. The senate had already passed such a resolution.

WASHINGTON, August 8—President Wilson today proposed to Congress the following definite program of legislation to cope with the high cost of living:

- First: Extension of the Lever Food Control Act to peace times and the broadening of its provisions to cover food stuff, fuel, clothing and other necessities of living.
- Second: Enactment of a law regulating cold storage.
- Third: Federal licensing of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce with specific regulations to prevent unconscionable profits.
- Fourth: Passage of a law now pending for the control of security issues.
- Fifth: Provision of adequate funds for Government Agencies to enable them to give full publicity of retailers costs and selling profits.
- Sixth: Definite provisions for penalties for profiteering.
- Seventh: Provisions for marking on the package of prices paid to the producer on all goods to be shipped in interstate commerce.

President Wilson presented his concrete program before a joint session of Congress late today, denouncing some of the methods by which present high prices are arrived at as illegal and criminal. The President assured Congress and the country that swift prosecution and punishment will fall upon the guilty.

He indirectly appealed for the early ratification of the Peace Treaty by pointing out that economic disturbances growing out of the war cannot be calmed until there is peace; that whatever can be done to meet the situation should be done immediately and quickly.

The President issued both a warning and an appeal to the country's workers not to strike or resort to violence to settle the present situation.

President Wilson told Congress that the methods by which some of the present high prices are produced are criminal and that existing laws are inadequate.

He said that there will be no real peace price until there is peace. The world is on the operating table with out an anaesthetic. All that can be done to stop profiteering until peace is had must be a makeshift.

Wheat shipments will be limited and controlled so as to lower the price of flour in the market. Surplus stock in the government's hands will be sold without profit. Surplus stock in private hands will be put on the market.

FULL AND EXTENDED PROBE OF MEXICAN AFFAIRS IS COMING

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today decided on an investigation of the American situation in Mexico when it reported favorably the King resolution. The investigation committee would compile a report of their finds, make any recommendations or suggestions they desire an dhave access to every possible avenue of information.

ALLIED TROOPS IN BUDAPEST: REDS GAINING CONTROL

BUDAPEST, Aug. 8—Allied troops are maintaining order in Budapest but Bolshevik forces are reported to have gained control in southwestern Hungary and are said to be slaughtering the bourgeois population much in the same manner as during the Russian revolution. Borhy was shot and thrown in the river. Abraham Cohn, Bolshevik leader, in an interview boasted of having committed at least eighty murders. From all parts of the Bolshevik infested area reports are coming of wholesale and brutal massacres.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—The steamship "North Star" of the Boston-Yarmouth line is ashore near Green Island off the coast of Nova Scotia, according to wireless dispatches to its agents here. The messages asked that assistance be rushed to the ship. The "North Star" has over two hundred passengers on board and a large cargo of freight. The passengers are declared to be safe as the sea is calm and later dispatches tell of many ships going to their rescue. She ran ashore at 6.40 this morning.

WILSON ORDERS STRIKING SHOPMEN BACK TO WORK

TELLS HINES TO TAKE UP MATTER OF WAGE INCREASES BUT NOT UNTIL WORKERS GET ON JOBS
NO CONGRESS AUTHORITY NEEDED

By RALPH E. COUCH
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. August 8—Whether the wage demands of the railroad employees will be peacefully adjusted or whether the federal government and railroad administration will refuse to consider their demands is now up to the employees themselves. It is stated on good authority today that developments will depend entirely on the response of the striking shopmen to President Wilson's request that they return to work pending the possible adjustment of the difficulty.

President Wilson in a letter to Director Hines of the Railroad Administration told him to take up the wage question without further authority from congress but there was to be no dealing with the railroad administration until the shopmen, who went out on strike contrary to the orders of their leaders, go back to work. B. M. Kewell, Acting Chief of the American Federation of Labor has telegraphed the striking shopmen asking them to resume work. Answers to his appeals are looked for at an early hour.

If the striking shopmen go back to work negotiations between the railroad administration and the employees will proceed; otherwise according to the tone of the president's letter and those in close touch with the situation, the federal government will refuse to treat with the employees until they establish order within their own camp.

Telegrams received by the American Federation of Labor today indicate that the shopmen who went on strike with authority from their leaders are returning to their work in large numbers and it is considered quite probable that every man will be back at work tomorrow morning. Their action is the direct result of President Wilson's statement that the "government would not consider higher wages for them until all the men were back on the job." Every striking shopman on the Lackawanna and on the Norfolk and Western was reported to be back at work at noon today.

"WHY UNIVERSAL TRAINING UNDER LEAGUE PLAN"? ASKS HY JOHNSON

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—"The War Department plan is peace time conscription", declared Senator Hiram Johnson today in commenting on the proposal made by Chief of Staff March in testifying before the committee hearing the universal training bill data. Saying that the bill if passed will cost one billion dollars a year to operate, Senator Johnson declared, "peace conscription at a cost of one billion a year is the price we are to pay for the league of nations. Does universal peace bring universal military training? I cannot understand why universal peace will bring universal peacetime conscription."

General March said that the General Staff system could be abandoned if the nation desired to go back to the old system of no defense which the United States experienced before the war.

GET READY FOR A STRIKE TO FORCE GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

That the leaders of the railroad labor brotherhoods "are fully prepared to call a general railroad strike for the purpose of forcing government ownership and employees' management of the railroads upon the American people," is the expressed opinion by the Railway Age in an editorial in its current issue. "The railroad leaders are plainly trying to create a labor situation which will convince the public and Congress that a return to private operation on January 1, as announced by the President, is impractical," the Railway Age says, "and it is beyond serious question that they are prepared to take the same steps to force Congress to adopt the Plumb Plan of government ownership that they took to force Congress to pass the Adamson Act."

"There have been sinister rumors for several weeks that the leaders of the labor brotherhoods were quietly preparing, first, to prevent the return of the railroads to private operation, and then to force government ownership and employees' management. The shop crafts and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen already have given notice that they will strike unless demands which they have presented to the Railroad Administration are favorably acted upon, and several serious strikes of shop employees already have occurred. Among the most ominous signs are statements which are being made by the labor leaders. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said before the Board of Railroad Wages and Working Conditions in Washington last week: 'The war is over, but peace is not before us, or I am a poor prophet. We are nearer war today, I believe, than when the Kaiser threw down the gauntlet.' L. E. Shepard, acting head of the Order of Railway Conductors, also said: 'They tell us that the railroads are going back in January, but mark this prediction: While I am not a prophet, or a son of a prophet, they will not go back January 1.' Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was quoted in a newspaper interview as having said regarding the agitation for the employees' plan of government ownership: 'We will go far enough to win, and we are going to win.' He was asked: 'What if the roads are turned back to their owners?' He replied: 'If they should be, they wouldn't stay there long, and it is not absolutely sure that they will be turned back by next January.'

"Three years ago the country was given an example of what Mr. Stone and his associates mean when they say, 'We will go far enough to win.' Declining to submit their basic eight-hour demand to arbitration in any form, the 'Big Four' Brotherhoods frightened Congress into passing the Adamson law by issuing an order for a tie-up of all the railroads of the United States and refusing to withdraw it until Congress passed the legislation that they wanted. The man who doubts that the nation is going, within the next few months, to be brought face to face with a similar crisis is blind."

"Do the 110,000,000 people of the United States, of whom at least 80 per cent. are opposed to government ownership and favor a return of the railroad to operation by the companies, intend to let the labor leaders, by threatening or calling strikes, force the tax paying public to buy the railroads and assume complete responsibility for their financial results, and then force the public to turn the railroads over to the employees to manage? If the public doesn't intend to submit to this, it must begin very soon to manifest its purpose to the President and the Congress of the United States and to demand that they adopt effective measures for the public's protection."

"It is easy to sympathize with the complaint of the employees that the benefit of the billion-dollar a year advance in wages which has been given them under government operation has been nullified by the increase in the cost of living. The real question, however, is whether the railway employees are better entitled to further advances in wages than the public is to immunity from the increase in taxes or in freight and passenger rates which a further advance in wages would make necessary. The claim made for the employees' plan of government ownership and employees' management that it would stop increases in the general cost of living, and even cause reductions in it, is of all claims that could be made for it the most preposterous. It is said that a large saving in the railway capital charge would be made under this plan because the government could issue bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest to buy the bonds. But everybody knows that the government had finally to pay 4 3-4 per cent. interest to raise money to carry on the war; and that government bonds are now selling in the market at rates that yield practically 5 per cent; and it is an insult to the intelligence of the American people to claim that the government could raise at 4 per cent. the many billions that would be required to buy the railroads."

"Second, it is claimed that if the railroads were turned over to the management of the road two-thirds of whose members were appointed by persons on their pay roll, vast economies in operating expenses could be effected by unified operation and better cooperation between the officers and employees. But, we have unified operation already; and at least 99 per cent. of the railroad operating officials of the United States are of the opinion that the Plumb Plan would destroy the last vestige of efficiency in operation of the railroads. Now, whatever would destroy efficiency in the operation of the railroads would necessarily tend to increase the cost of living."

"If the railroad labor organizations were disposed to rely entirely upon propaganda for the promotion of the Plumb Plan their advocacy of it would afford no ground for concern. Any person with even an elementary knowledge of economics and railway operation can demonstrate that the Plumb Plan is economically unsound in every particular and that its adoption would result disastrously to the public and in the long run to railway employees themselves. But unfortunately it is daily becoming more evident that the railroad labor organizations do not intend to rely entirely on propaganda to secure the adoption of their plan."

BASEBALL STARS WILL BATTLE HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Clearfield's baseball fans, and there are no more loyal rooters on top of ground, will at last have the opportunity to see at least one game of real up-to-date baseball. The chance will be given next Thursday afternoon when Jimmy DeHart's famous Western Pennsylvania semi-professional will cross bats or swords with Phillipsburg's paid team on the local park grounds.

These two teams met at Phillipsburg recently and the Centre county boys manhandled the visitors by a 10 to 8 score. DeHart's team don't think they can do the trick again and Phillipsburg's tossers say they can and being will go to back their judgment with their own have agreed to meet DeHart's bunch at Clearfield Park, Thursday afternoon next for a purse of $500.

It is going to be some game. Rube Hagerty, former Philly star, will twirl for the DeHart bunch while Manager Nixon will use one of his regular phenoms.

OFFICER CONFERS HERE ON WHITE PLAGUE PROBLEM

Mr. Dewees of Philadelphia, new executive chairman of the Pennsylvania Society for the prevention of tuberculosis, spent last evening here with the local committee, Mrs. Hagerty, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Martin, conferring on the needs of a local district nurse.

This worthy society is enlarging the scope of its activities, in battling the dreaded "white plague". Some idea of the necessity for continued and eternal vigilance against the ravages of this disease will be gained when it is known that during last month no less than nine patients were sent from the Clearfield dispensary or station to the sanitariums at Cresson and Mt. Alto.

HUMPHREY BRIDGE COMPLETED

The repairs on the Humphrey bridge have been completed by Contractor H. L. Connelly and the bridge will be opened for traffic about the 15th.

HUNTER'S LICENSES

County Treasurer A. L. Kiene was advised yesterday by Secretary Kalbfus of the State Game Commission that 7500 1919 hunter's license tags for Clearfield county had been shipped by express from Harrisburg. The tags are expected to reach here today or tomorrow and all applications for same will be promptly filled.

Secretary Kalbfus enclosed a copy of the amended game laws passed at this session and called the Treasurer's attention to the requirement regarding the issuing of licenses to foreign born citizens. Under this new interpretation all naturalized citizens seeking a license are required to present their naturalization papers and the Treasurer is directed to withhold such licenses until same is produced or the applicant satisfies him he is native-born.

The new law requires that all licenses be issued by the Treasurer direct instead of by Justices of the Peace as heretofore and provides for the supplying of application blanks to the Justices who receive the same fee for filling out and mailing the application as was granted him heretofore for issuing the licenses.

Under the new law the Treasurer is required to make a weekly report to the Game Commission of all licenses issued, together with the identification marks carried by the different applicants.

ROARING SPRINGS WINS FROM CLEARFIELD

The Roaring Springs team defeated the Clearfield team last night by the score of 8-0.

Owing to Milligan's getting the "one way traffic" signs mixed up, the Clearfield team didn't get there till 7:15 P. M. and a five inning game was played. Milligan went up the streets he should have gone down and vice versa. He also had a little other trouble and that was in always turning off on the wrong road.

VARNER OUT ON BAIL

H. J. Varner, the DuBois man who has been in jail since Saturday on information made by Juvenile Officer Leavy, alleging a very serious crime against morality, was before Judge Bell this morning on a writ of habeas corpus and was admitted to bail in the sum of $3500. Bond was furnished by G. W. Smyers, of DuBois.

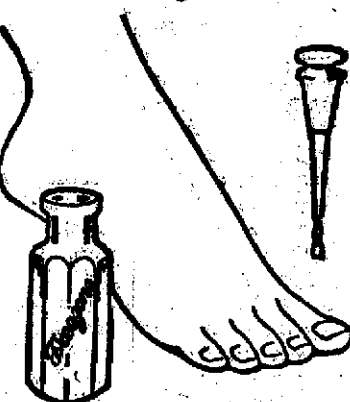

At the hearing it developed that Varner's daughter had been summoned to the office of Attorney McCall for the defense and closely questioned about the case and was told by the attorney that the telling of her story in court if it sent her father to the penitentiary might possibly result in her going to a reform school.

District Attorney Arnold and Judge Bell assured the little girl to the contrary and in the argument the District Attorney severely arraigned the counsel for his unethical conduct. Judge Bell also scored the unfair methods alleged against the attorney for the defense and said that fact alone would warrant or move him in holding the defendant for court.

Your Kiddie Deserves Correct Eyesight

He's going to start school in about three weeks. He's going to put his eyes under conditions that have never been met before. Don't start him in under the handicap of incorrect vision. If you've noticed a squint, noticed that he has to hold a picture or printed matter too close; that he complains of headaches—bring him to me. I don't take the kiddies' word for what they see. I use instruments that unfold eye troubles to me as plain as a printed page.

Remember, if you don't need glasses you cannot buy them from me.

Put Stomach In Fine Condition

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hydrochloric acid; meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heart-burn, flatulence, water-brain or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescent and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While re-

CANADIAN MONEY NOT ACCEPTED AT PAR AT BUFFALO

Buffalo for the first time in history is charging discount on Canadian money. For many years at Buffalo and other cities along the Canadian border large quantities of Canadian money have been in circulation and there has never been any discount charged upon it and it circulated freely on a par with the coin of United States. In some portions of Maine near the border more Canadian money was to be found than that of the United States and at Detroit the Canadian coins were equally as plentiful as those of Uncle Sam.

Since the war this is changed. The English pound sterling on which the Canadian coins are based has fallen in value in the United States markets of trade and the cities of the country began to pour their Canadian coins and bills into the border cities. The result was that the banks in the border towns began to accumulate a surplus of the Canadian money and at its depreciated value it became too much to handle. Hence the rule went out for discount to be charged.

Several years ago it was customary in DuBois to allow only 20 cents for a Canadian quarter and only forty cents for a Canadian fifty cent piece. Of late years, however, the Canadian coins have been accepted for full value. It is possible that as a result of the depreciation that the lower value will again be established.

HOW LEATHER PROFITEER FIGURES IN SHOES AT $25

The estimated production of leather—raw product and manufactures—in America this year will reach in value $76,346,272. Of this amount it is estimated that $157,742,329 will be sent abroad. Ships have taken, up to July 1, $105,449,825 in value. With five exporting months left, the estimated total is conservative.

Important leather interests admit that 20 per cent. of the total production value goes to profiteers. Thus, they will gain more than $175,000,000 this year, while the leather trade is preparing the public for a rise in the price of shoes to $25 a pair.

It follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

WHY BE A BOLSHIEVİK?

A Communication

It is just as true today as it was a couple of hundred years ago when the original John Smith informed his bunch of slackers in the woods along the James river that "he who does not work cannot eat."

We make this observation at this time because we are going far afield to secure a moral with which to adorn our tale.

When Smith and his early colonists were seeking to evade starvation, as well as the war club of old Powhatan and his red warriors, a couple of barbers in the outfit decided that as barbers were scarce they would lay off on Thursday afternoon and let George and the rest of the fellows till the soil and bring in the beans. It worked alright for a time, too, as a recent advance in the price of "trimming" the Colonists had caused the barbers to wax fat and they were swelled up like real class or soaked dried apples. When some of the other fellows saw how easy it was for the barbers they decided to lay off Thursday afternoon. They picknicked and danced while poor Smith and the rest of the rubes blistered their hands getting in the crops and moulding bullets for the blunderbusses in the evening.

Pretty soon there were more loafers than there were workers and demerit was to pay generally. The bottom of the community flour barrel was daily getting closer to the top while Powhatan's young men and Pocahontas were each day edging closer to the palisades guarding the settlement.

Then old Smith asserted himself. He called up the barbers and all the other Bolshieviks and proceeded to lay down the law. We've mislaid our notes of his speech, but the gist of it was that the barbers were ordered back to work and the famous proclamation given in the opening paragraph was nailed on convenient trees. It worked, too, and so did the barbers then. And ever since, or until recently at least, it was the generally accepted American idea that the laborer was worthy of his hire, the Divine command, "six days shalt thou labor and on the seventh (only) rest," was good politics, and the welfare of the world predicated upon those two propositions of compensation and supply and demand.

This old world generally has made a pretty fair success of it since hewing to those lines. Of course we were not all constituted alike but the run of the mine average the world over arranged for about an even divide or a fifty-fifty basis between labor and pleasure.

In the general scheme of things when the genus homo turned up more or less crippled mentally or physically and some times in the nut class both ways from the middle, with a positive antipathy for work, he was made into a barber after about six weeks training at a barber college and allowed to inflict himself on an unsuspecting community.

Large and copious facial shrubbery or curtains were the order of the early day and the barber was tolerated for shearing purposes when fence corners were rid out and hedges trimmed in into the pleasurable mysteries and delicacy of green corn on the cob the barber was soon very much in demand. Corn on the cob and extensive facial shrubbery have long been taboo in polite society, but as this was in the days when table manners or etiquette was in its infancy the operation of filling our ancestors full of green corn on or "off" the cob was attended with more or less pain and every male member of the colony lost a half hour after meal time combing his whiskers out of his teeth. Smith solved the problem by ordering the removal from around and about the port of food entry of all hirsute effluvia, and as a result the whiskers were cut away from every possible contact with the corn or cob and great was the joy of the natives. Thus originated the colonial style of whiskers.

The barber accepted his humble lot, filled his appointed niche while filing divers and sundry nicks in the lips and chops of his victims. He later took on greater degree of importance when changing styles disposed of "face curtains" to a much greater degree.

Come a time even later when the barber was accepted as an evil or affliction to be endured without great complaint and people even got so freckled as to pay him in larger volume than he expected to receive or his demands amounted to if allowed to extablish and fix his own emoluments. But times have changed and even barbers as well and the poor, down-trodden "evil to be endured" has become drunk with his own importance and affluence and has gone so far that he now essays the role of tyrant bold and has already succeeded in getting away with it.

Having once tasted of the fleshpots he refuses to be denied and irrespective of the warning about putting Lazarus astride Pegasus he is now engaged in the perilous pastime of riding down the goose which accounted for the 18 karat egg when it was fresh.

Having progressed thus far, Mr. Editor, we are now going to tell you why we are mad. The local barbers, as noted by reading your paper, will advance August 11 next the price of shaves thirty three and one-third per cent. and will go this one better by adding forty per cent. to the price exacted or extracted for a hair cut. Shades of Lenin, Trotsky, Bela Kun and the many other long-haired Bolshievik foes of humanity, whither are we drifting? Whence the end?

If the barber, who only a few short months ago made a similar boost in his prices which netted him so much unearned increment that he can afford to shut up shop and rest one-half day per week and any other time he feels like it, what guarantee have we that now that he again will line his purse with the poor man's gold that he won't shut down another half day or a day or for that matter quit for all time. Then where will we be at? I ask you?

If the barber's raise is necessary, and he says it is, why not the butcher add 15 cents per pound to his beef-steak, the grocer hang 15 cents per pound on his coffee, the coal man 15 cents per bushel on coal, the shoe dealer forty per cent. or 34 to a pair of shoes, the clothing merchant 10 each to his $40 suits, while we know the barber would not object to have his own line of reasoning carried out by his landlord who would be or will be justified in raising the barbers $20 per month rent to $30. We hope the landlord does because he ought to have it, the barber says so and he knows.

According to government statistics the cost of living has increased some 60 or 70 per cent in the past few years, the local barbers have increased their prices of shaving and hair cutting each one hundred per cent. in the past six months and who knows but when they begin to live fat on the bloody sweat of we poor laboring men they will take another day off and boost their prices another hundred.

Whither are we drifting and where and what will be the end? We shudder even to think of the possibilities. If this be not Bolshevism to the nth degree, what might it not be? Who will make reply?

In those olden days quoted herewith barbers were called "trimming" and a barber was said to "trim the people." How appropriate now.

COMMISSIONERS TAX SALE YIELDS LARGE AMOUNT

The recent County Commissioners' tax sales netted the county something over $10,000. There was a total of 322 properties on the list and every one was disposed of. Of this number 285 were of seated lands, the remaining 37 being unseated.

These sales were held under the original tax sales laws of 1815 and 1844. Amended and brought up to date through amendment in 1915 brought about largely through the activities of Commissioners' Clerk L. C. Norris, who is recognized throughout the State as an authority on the tax sales law and who delivered an address on the subject before the last State convention of County Commissioners which received very favorable mention from hundreds of county officials present.

A wise provision under this amended law saves the homes of poor people from sale for taxes by allowing the Poor District of the county to step in and acquire the property at tax sale and then instead of disposing of the property owner of his home allows him to remain thereon, have the Poor District assume the yearly taxes and enter them as a charge against the property and at the death of the owner the county will receive the taxes when a settlement of the estate is made.

The tax records of Clearfield county

is now on file in the County Comptroller's office and being used as much as for many of the counties of the State. Credit for our system is largely due to Clerk Norris and former County Solicitor A. M. Liveright.

MERCHANTS BEHIND IN PAYMENT OF MERCANTILE TAX

About one hundred merchants and other business firms for mercantile tax in Clearfield county have so far failed to pay up for 1918 taxes, due July 1st. County Treasurer Kline extended the time some three weeks out of the goodness of his heart, but nearly one hundred failed to appreciate the extension and come across and at the instance of the Auditor General, under the law, these claims had to be left with a Justice of the Peace for collection and suit has been brought in each case which will necessitate the payment of costs with the tax.

WHEN I left the shores of Europe a few weeks ago, I was a pessimist. My nose had been so close to the grindstone upon which the peoples of that continent are sharpening their swords into plowshares and pruning hooks that I had lost the vision of hope, and the problems of reconstruction seemed so great that I was depressed. I felt vaguely, however, that things could not be as bad as they looked. I knew that I had been surrounded by men and women who were just emerging from a life struggle of devaluation the economic conditions of the world. It is also true that a great part of the war expenditures has been circulated among the peoples of the countries at war through higher wages, and much of this has been saved because it could not be spent. Money would not buy additional food and luxuries upon which it might have been spent could not be secured at any price.

The Wonderful Canals of France will help in Restoration

In Peace Conference: Lloyd Bentsen, Orlando Clemente, and Walter

The nations of Europe are burdened with great national debts, but in some countries the masses of the people have a reserve buying power which did not exist before the war. There are, of course, many exceptions to this rule, but the people of England and France have more money than formerly, even though they have lost some of their great wealth. We also sometimes forget the fact that as wages are increased in a nation, the consuming power of that nation increases. For the increased wages quickly find their way into circulation through the purchase of added comforts and luxuries.

I recently read a very gloomy description of the possible result of the increased wages in England and the probability of England's inability to compete in the export markets of the world. It is not at all surprising to argue this contention for the future depends so largely on conditions which cannot be clearly foreseen at the present time. I have great confidence in the sturdy common sense of the people and the man who prophesies that the higher wages will be the means of cutting off the markets is likely to be without honor as a prophet in any country. If the wages in England remain at a higher level than before the war, as I am sure every thinking man must believe they will, the result will be true, that English labor has been desperately unpaid for generations the result of the higher wages will be an increased demand among British subjects for the products of their own country. The increased necessity for an export market for the goods in many industries in England will be advanced several pounds a week. Of course all of the population of the British Isles is not engaged in the same pursuits, but if the average increase in wages is $1.00 a week, the average man's income is amount to only $2.00 per week per head for all of the population.

45,000,000 people who live in the United States there will still be an increase in the cost of living of 1,000,000,000 per week. I give these figures merely as an illustration. I believe the wage increase will be vastly more than this amount. Much of the cost in the higher cost of food and living is due to the cost of labor of England is made more prosperous they will consume great quantities of manufactured articles which have heretofore been forced to find a market in foreign lands because of labor in England being poorly paid as to be unable to buy in so large a measure as could be the case, the products of their own workshops. One of the reasons for the great buying power of the American people has been the fact that our people have been able to earn wages to enable it to purchase more than the necessities of life. As an illustration I am told that one person in five in America owns an automobile; and in England one person in five hundred. As a basis for comparison, it is estimated that the cost of living must be maintained, for during the last five years the people of America have been increasing the number of their motor cars enormously, while Great Britain has been without power, motor, and automobile, and motor cars, and with a strict regulation of gasoline. The fact remains, however, that a prosperous and well-paid people will consume a much greater percentage of the products of their industry than a people working for low wages.

Nearly all of the observations which I have made are generalities, and do not apply to all of the nations of Europe, for the psychology of each is different. If one thinks of the economic structure of France, the first thought is of the thrift of the French people. The Garve with which the nation is blessed, and the waste in this country, results in saving nearly sufficient to support the French population. The recovery of France will be largely based upon the thrift of the French people. In Germany the saving of this money, which has been spent by past generations upon its war machine, will be turned towards building the new plant which will meet the needs of the new generation of Germany. The nation is recovering, and it is a fact of course and history.

Sporting Editor Progress

Dear Sir, I received several copies of your paper sent me by friends of mine in Clearfield and wish to thank you for having my challenge that I sent to Leslie Roberts of Boardman printed, but sorry to say that up to date I have not received any reply from Roberts or his manager in regards to my challenge. Maybe that $1000 side bet is bothering them, but as I am anxious to meet Roberts I am willing to meet him on any terms he wishes. If they don't want to bet I will wrestle for per centage of gate receipts just so long as I get the match. Now I think that if Roberts is the man they claim he is he would accept this challenge at once as I am sure it's a very liberal one. Hope you will find space in your paper for these few lines as I wish to show his friends that I am trying every way possible to get this match with him.

Yours very truly
M. HENDERSON

IT IS NOT FAR TO YORK STATE

The following items taken from the Watkins (N. Y.) Review of July 16th, would make it appear that the average rural New Yorker, not the potato of that name, is not seriously discommoded by the high cost of living. At least it should not appeal to him as it does to the average Clearfelder. Here they are:

Butter, Eggs and Berries
(Naples Record.)
Eggs, 42 cents per dozen.
Butter, 40 cents per pound.
The berry pickers in this section are earning big wages this year, the price paid being from four to five cents per quart for the picking. The average picker will score from 100 to 150 quarts per day during the good picking, and some less at the end of the season when the berries are more scarce.

Blackcap raspberries are bringing the highest price ever known for what is termed "green"—27 cents per quart. And this in the face of an unusually large crop. Grapes also promise to be an abundant crop, and present indications are for a good price; the manufacture of wine being prohibited, the crop will go into grape juice, jam, etc.

A Middlesex correspondent says: 600 laying hens at Hickory Grove Farm are laying 20 dozens of eggs daily, which net the owner 61 cents per dozen. The cost of feed is around $4 per day which makes a net income of $5.20 per day.

WILL DRIVE TRUCK IN POLAND

Harry Bartley, who has been overseas with the A. E. F. for the past eleven months, has enlisted for four months service in Poland, according to word received by his mother yesterday. Two mechanical units of 250 men each have been recruited by voluntary enlistment at Base Section No. 5 in France, to go to Poland for the purpose of teaching men and women how to operate, drive, care for and repair American motor transportation and steam sterilizing apparatus. They will have four months service in Poland and will not lose their army grade or pay while in this service.

If Kidneys And Bladder Bother

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize irritating acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder, and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

CURWENSVILLE

HELD OVER FROM YESTERDAY

Thomas Humphrey is reported ill at his farm home near the Bloom bridge. His many friends in this place are hoping that his illness may not prove of a fatal nature.

S. Dorsey Griffith, former owner and proprietor of the Park House, now located in Pittsburgh, came to Curwensville yesterday and will spend several days in town with his wife who arrived a few days ahead of him. They are the guests of Mrs. A. M. Kirk.

Prof. Bliss, of Ridgway, is a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Kirk. It will be remembered that the Prof. taught music in the Curwensville public schools several years ago.

The board of health at a regular meeting held on Monday evening, passed an ordinance prohibiting the spitting on the sidewalks within the borough limits. Cards notifying the prohibition and the penalty attached for a violation of the law will be posted in conspicuous places throughout the town within the next two or three days. This is a good movement for the healthfulness of the town.

Mrs. I. H. Landy and daughter Gertrude, who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson for a week past, left for their home in Washington, D. C., yesterday.

Miss Josephine Thompson, of Williamsport, is visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orr Thompson. The young lady holds a responsible position in the largest store in Williamsport, and came up to her old home to spend her vacation among kin-folks.

The saw mill, owned and operated by the Bickford refractories company and located on the Orr Norris farm, was burned to the ground on Monday evening. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, as the men who were employed on the mill had taken every precaution against fire before leaving the mill, even to throwing water around in spots where sparks might have alighted. This is the second time for the burning of this mill.

Earl McFadden, who for several years had been foreman of the hard clay mines for the Bickford people, has resigned his situation with that company, and has accepted a similar one with the Swank brothers, of Johnstown, whose mines are near Faunce.

B. Ramond, of Elmira, N. Y., who represents the LaFrance company of that city, and from whom this borough has purchased a motor truck fire engine arrived in town yesterday. He informed The Progress representative that the engine had been shipped from the factory over a week ago, and that he was looking for its arrival by every train. When it arrives he will give demonstrations for the benefit of the local firemen, and also teach them how to operate it. The apparatus will not be taken off the company's hands until representatives of the Underwriters Association arrive and inspect it and see that the engine will do the work as has been represented. It may be several weeks yet before the final test is made, and if it meets the approval of all parties concerned, it only remains for the borough to accept it and pay the money over.

William Newtoker, of Pittsburgh, is spending a few days at the Park House, with his old friend Landford Carpenter. This is his first visit to our mountain village and he is very much pleased with the town, its surroundings and the people.

Mrs. Lee Durning, a sister of Karl Hamilton, who resides in Louisville, Ky., is visiting relatives and friends in this section.

Raw hides are now sliding down the scale of high prices and in consequence the tanneries at this place are able to get two and three cars of them a day.

Mrs. J. B. Garner who has been visiting in Philadelphia for several weeks returned to her home here last evening. Mrs. Garner was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Hartman, and her daughter Miss Grace Garner.

Wilson Addresses Congress

By L. C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—Congress this afternoon was ready to hear the most momentous message from the lips of the President since the declaration of war. All doubt that the President would appear before a joint session of both legislative bodies as scheduled disappeared when a roll call was made shortly after the House convened and it was seen that a quorum was on hand. It had been feared that less than one-half of the members of the house were in Washington. A resolution authorizing the joint session of the senate and the house was passed by the House immediately after the roll call. The senate had already passed such a resolution.

WASHINGTON, August 8—President Wilson today proposed to Congress the following definite program of legislation to cope with the high cost of living:

- First: Extension of the Lever Food Control Act to peace times and the broadening of its provisions to cover food stuff, fuel, clothing and other necessities of living.
- Second: Enactment of a law regulating cold storage.
- Third: Federal licensing of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce with specific regulations to prevent unconscionable profits.
- Fourth: Passage of a law now pending for the control of security issues.
- Fifth: Provision of adequate funds for Government Agencies to enable them to give full publicity of retailers costs and selling profits.
- Sixth: Definite provisions for penalties for profiteering.
- Seventh: Provisions for marking on the package of prices paid to the producer on all goods to be shipped in interstate commerce.

President Wilson presented his concrete program before a joint session of Congress late today, denouncing some of the methods by which present high prices are arrived at as illegal and criminal. The President assured Congress and the country that swift prosecution and punishment will fall upon the guilty.

He indirectly appealed for the early ratification of the Peace Treaty by pointing out that economic disturbances growing out of the war cannot be calmed until there is peace; that whatever can be done to meet the situation should be done immediately and quickly.

The President issued both a warning and an appeal to the country's workers not to strike or resort to violence to settle the present situation.

President Wilson told Congress that the methods by which some of the present high prices are produced are criminal and that existing laws are inadequate.

He said that there will be no real peace price until there is peace. The world is on the operating table with out an anaesthetic. All that can be done to stop profiteering until peace is had must be a makeshift.

Wheat shipments will be limited and controlled so as to lower the price of flour in the market. Surplus stock in the government's hands will be sold without profit. Surplus stock in private hands will be put on the market.

Glory remains with us and so do the war taxes.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS DEMAND THAT ROUMANIA RECALL HUNGARY DEMANDS

BULLETIN, PARIS, August 8—Members of the American Peace Commission notified Roumania today that the United States will be compelled to withdraw economic assistance to Roumania this winter if she pursues the course she has mapped out in dealing with Hungary.

LONDON, August 8—American officials at Paris have sent an ultimatum to Roumania asking a moderation of the terms sent to Hungary. It is said that all American aid will be withdrawn from Roumania if she carries out her present intentions toward Hungary.

WHOLESALE SUGAR PROFITEER IS ARRESTED TODAY AT PITTSBURG

PITTSBURGH, August 8—Charged with violation of the laws of the federal government of foods, George W. Sheehan, of Chicago, President of the Central Sugar Company was arrested today by a Federal agent here this morning. He was arrested by a federal agent as he entered the Federal building here today to attend a hearing in which three of his local agents were charged with alleged price gouging. The Central Sugar Company is an Illinois corporation. It is said that the firm sold sugar here at four-tenths of a cent a pound.

FULL AND EXTENDED PROBE OF MEXICAN AFFAIRS IS COMING

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today decided on an investigation of the American situation in Mexico when it reported favorably the King resolution. The measure if passed by congress will demand a complete investigation of every phase of American interests in Mexico, including the various complaints of murder, arson, confiscation, destroying of property, etc. It will also tabulate and catalog claims for confiscated and damaged property and make comparisons of the relative benefit to American interests under the Carranza and Diaz rule. The investigation committee would compile a report of their finds, make any recommendations or suggestions they desire and have access to every possible avenue of information.

ALLIED TROOPS IN BUDAPEST: REDS GAINING CONTROL

BUDAPEST, Aug. 8—Allied troops are maintaining order in Budapest but Bolshevik forces are reported to have gained control in southwestern Hungary and are said to be slaughtering the bourgeois population much in the same manner as during the Russian revolution. Scanty reports would indicate that the slaughter has victims by the hundreds. General Fory is reported to have been lynched and his body thrown into the Danube. Col. Borhy was shot and thrown in the river. Abraham Cohn, Bolshevik leader, in an interview boasted of having committed at least eighty murders. From all parts of the Bolshevik infested area reports are coming of wholesale and brutal massacres.

STEAMER ASHORE OFF COAST OF NOVA SCOTIA

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—The steamship "North Star" of the Boston-Yarmouth line is ashore near Green Island off the coast of Nova Scotia, according to wireless dispatches to its agents here. The messages asked that assistance be rushed to the ship. The "North Star" has over two hundred passengers on board and a large cargo of freight. The passengers are declared to be safe as the sea is calm and later dispatches tell of many ships going to their rescue. She ran ashore at 6.40 this morning.

WILSON ORDERS STRIKING SHOPMEN BACK TO WORK

TELLS HINES TO TAKE UP MATTER OF WAGE INCREASES BUT NOT UNTIL WORKERS GET ON JOBS
NO CONGRESS AUTHORITY NEEDED

By RALPH E. COUCH
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. August 8—Whether the wage demands of the railroad employees will be peacefully adjusted or whether the federal government and railroad administration will refuse to consider their demands is now up to the employees themselves. It is stated on good authority today that developments will depend entirely on the response of the striking shopmen to President Wilson's request that they return to work pending the possible adjustment of the difficulty.

President Wilson in a letter to Director Hines of the Railroad Administration told him to take up the wage question without further authority from congress but there was to be no dealing with the railroad administration until the shopmen, who went out on strike contrary to the orders of their leaders, go back to work. B. M. Kewell, Acting Chief of the American Federation of Labor has telegraphed the striking shopmen asking them to resume work. Answers to his appeals are looked for at an early hour.

If the striking shopmen go back to work negotiations between the railroad administration and the employees will proceed; otherwise according to the tone of the president's letter and those in close touch with the situation, the federal government will refuse to treat with the employees until they establish order within their own camp.

Telegrams received by the American Federation of Labor today indicate that the shopmen who went on strike with authority from their leaders are returning to their work in large numbers and it is considered quite probable that every man will be back at work tomorrow morning. Their action is the direct result of President Wilson's statement that the "government would not consider higher wages for them until all the men were back on the job." Every striking shopman on the Lackawanna and on the Norfolk and Western was reported to be back at work at noon today.

"WHY UNIVERSAL TRAINING UNDER LEAGUE PLAN"? ASKS HY JOHNSON

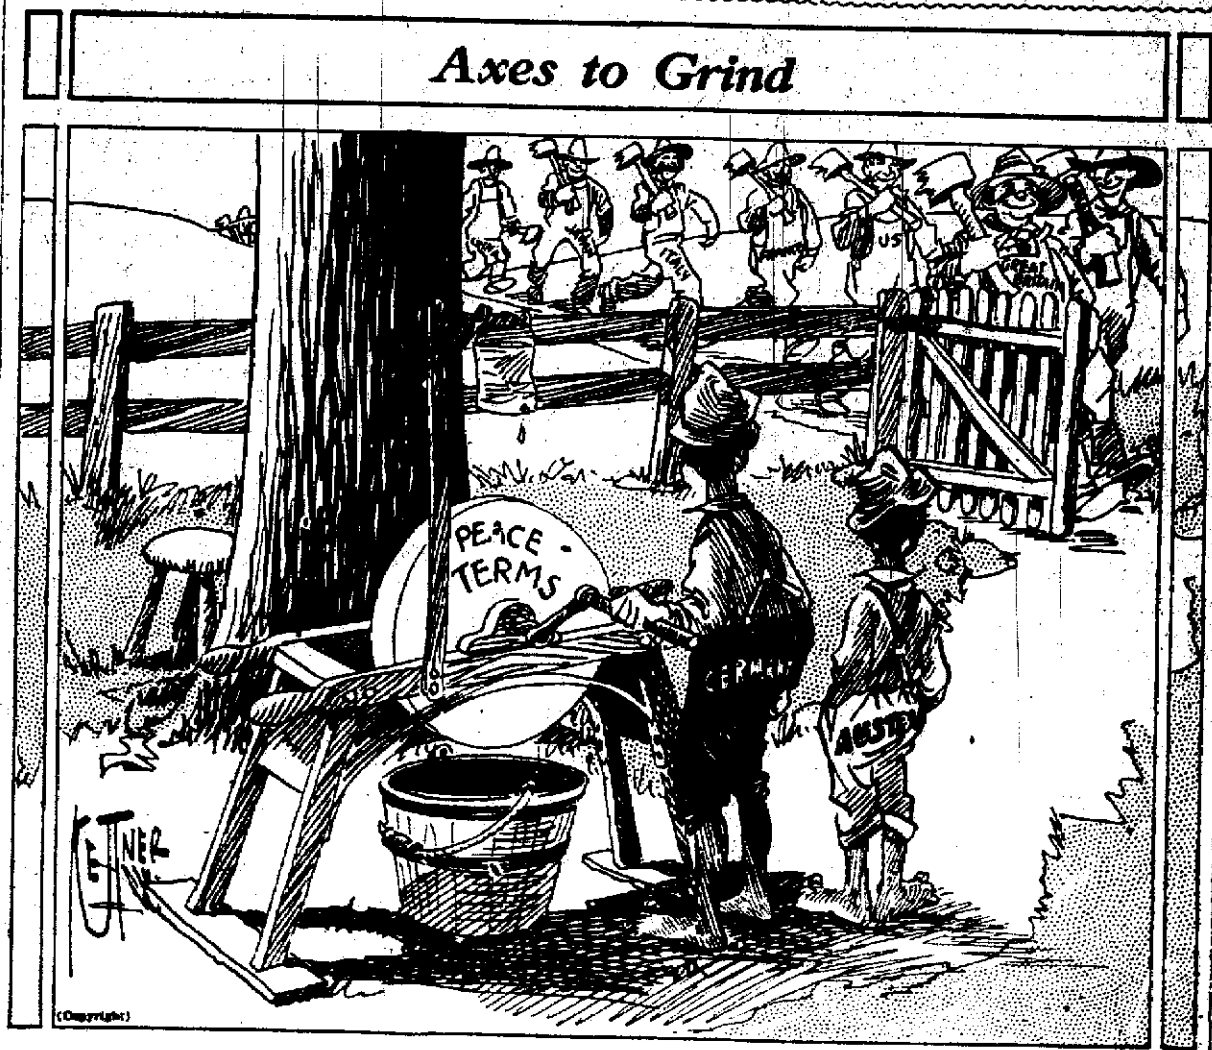

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 8—"The War Department plan is peace time conscription," declared Senator Hiram Johnson today in commenting on the proposal made by Chief of Staff March in testifying before the committee hearing the universal training bill data. Saying that the bill if passed will cost one billion dollars a year to operate, Senator Johnson declared, "peace conscription at a cost of one billion a year is the price we are to pay for the league of nations. Does universal peace bring universal military training? I cannot understand why universal peace will bring universal peacetime conscription."

General March said that the General Staff system could be abandoned if the nation desired to go back to the old system of no defense which the United States experienced before the war.

GET READY FOR A STRIKE TO FORCE GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

That the leaders of the railroad labor brotherhoods "are fully prepared to call a general railroad strike for the purpose of forcing government ownership and employees' management of the railroads upon the American people," is the expressed opinion by the Railway Age in an editorial in its current issue. "The railroad labor leaders are plainly trying to create a labor situation which will convince the public and Congress that a return to private operation on January 1, as announced by the President, is impractical," the Railway Age says, "and it is beyond serious question that they are prepared to take the same steps to force Congress to adopt the Plumb Plan of government ownership that they took to force Congress to pass the Adamson Act."

"There have been sinister rumors for several weeks that the leaders of the labor brotherhoods were quietly preparing, first, to prevent the return of the railroads to private operation, and then to force government ownership and employees' management. The shop crafts and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen already have given notice that they will strike unless demands which they have presented to the Railroad Administration are favorably acted upon, and several serious strikes of shop employees already have occurred. Among the most ominous signs are statements which are being made by the labor leaders. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said before the Board of Railroad Wages and Working Conditions in Washington last week: 'The war is over, but peace is not before us, or I am a poor prophet. We are nearer war today, I believe, than when the Kaiser threw down the gauntlet.' L. E. Shepard, acting head of the Order of Railway Conductors, also said: 'They tell us that the railroads are going back in January, but mark this prediction: While I am not a prophet, or a son of a prophet, they will not go back January 1.' Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was quoted in a newspaper interview as having said regarding the agitation for the employees' plan of government ownership: 'We will go far enough to win, and we are going to win.' He was asked: 'What if the roads are turned back to their owners?' He replied: 'If they should be, they wouldn't stay there long, and it is not absolutely sure that they will be turned back by next January.'

"Three years ago the country was given an example of what Mr. Stone and his associates mean when they say, 'We will go far enough to win.' Declining to submit their basic eight-hour demand to arbitration in any form, the 'Big Four' Brotherhoods frightened Congress into passing the Adamson law by issuing an order for a tie-up of all the railroads of the United States and refusing to withdraw it until Congress passed the legislation that they wanted. The man who doubts that the nation is going, within the next few months, to be brought face to face with a similar crisis is blind.

"Do the 110,000,000 people of the United States, of whom at least 80 per cent. are opposed to government ownership and favor a return of the railroad to operation by the companies, intend to let the labor leaders, by threatening or calling strikes, force the tax paying public to buy the railroads and assume complete responsibility for their financial results, and then force the public to turn the railroads over to the employees to manage? If the public doesn't intend to submit to this, it must begin very soon to manifest its purpose to the President and the Congress of the United States and to demand that they adopt effective measures for the public's protection.

"It is easy to sympathize with the complaint of the employees that the benefit of the billion-dollar a year advance in wages which has been given them under government operation has been nullified by the increase in the cost of living. The real question, however, is whether the railway employees are better entitled to further advances in wages than the public is to immunity from the increase in taxes or in freight and passenger rates which a further advance in wages would make necessary. The claim made for the employees' plan of government ownership and employees' management that it would stop increases in the general cost of living, and even cause reductions in it, is of all claims that could be made for it the most preposterous. It is said that a large saving in the railway capital charge would be made under this plan because the government could issue bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest to buy the bonds. But everybody knows that the government had finally to pay 4 3-4 per cent. interest to raise money to carry on the war; and that government bonds are now selling in the market at rates that yield practically 5 per cent; and it is an insult to the intelligence of the American people to claim that the government could raise at 4 per cent. the many billions that would be required to buy the railroads.

"Second, it is claimed that if the railroads were turned over to the management of the road two-thirds of whose members were appointed by persons on their pay roll, vast economies in operating expenses could be effected by unified operation and better cooperation between the officers and employees. But, we have unified operation already; and at least 99 per cent. of the railroad operating officials of the United States are of the opinion that the Plumb Plan would destroy the last vestige of efficiency in operation of the railroads. Now, whatever would destroy efficiency in the operation of the railroads would necessarily tend to increase the cost of living.

"If the railroad labor organizations were disposed to rely entirely upon propaganda for the promotion of the Plumb Plan their advocacy of it would afford no ground for concern. Any person with even an elementary knowledge of economics and railway operation can demonstrate that the Plumb Plan is economically unsound in every particular and that its adoption would result disastrously to the public and in the long run to railway employees themselves. But unfortunately it is daily becoming more evident that the railroad labor organizations do not intend to rely entirely on propaganda to secure the adoption of their plan."

ROBBERS MADE RICH HAUL

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Aug 8.—Three men entered the store of the Morgan Jewelry Company here this morning while the first clerk to arrive was taking the jewels out of the safe to put them in the window. The men seized the clerk, threw him to the floor and looted the place. They made their escape and were not apprehended. It is thought that they had an auto in waiting and escaped in that manner. One hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry was taken.

BASEBALL STARS WILL BATTLE HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Clearfield's baseball fans, and there are no more loyal rooters on top of ground, will at last have the opportunity to see at least one game of real up-to-date baseball. The chance will be given next Thursday afternoon when Jimmy DeHart's famous Western Pennsylvania semi-professional will cross bats or swords with Phillipsburg's paid team on the local park grounds.

These two teams met at Phillipsburg recently and the Centre county boys manhandled the visitors by a 10 to 8 score. DeHart's team don't think they can do the trick again and Phillipsburg's tossers say they can and being will go to back their judgment with their own have agreed to meet DeHart's bunch at Clearfield Park, Thursday afternoon next for a purse of $500.

It is going to be some game. Rube Hagerty, former Philly star, will twirl for the DeHart bunch while Manager Nixon will use one of his regular phenoms.

The Phillipsburg team has played 34 games thus far this season without a single defeat.

Remember the date and turn out. Maybe we can get up enthusiasm enough to get a team of our own for a few weeks following this game.

OFFICER CONFERS HERE ON WHITE PLAGUE PROBLEM

Mr. Dewees of Philadelphia, new executive chairman of the Pennsylvania Society for the prevention of tuberculosis, spent last evening here with the local committee, Mrs. Hagerty, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Martin, conferring on the needs of a local district nurse.

This worthy society is enlarging the scope of its activities, in battling the dreaded "white plague". Some idea of the necessity for continued and eternal vigilance against the ravages of this disease will be gained when it is known that during last month no less than nine patients were sent from the Clearfield dispensary or station to the sanitariums at Cresson and Mt. Alto.

HUNTER'S LICENSES

County Treasurer A. L. Kiene was advised yesterday by Secretary Kalbfus of the State Game Commission that 7500 1919 hunter's license tags for Clearfield county had been shipped by express from Harrisburg. The tags are expected to reach here today or tomorrow and all applications for same will be promptly filled.

Secretary Kalbfus enclosed a copy of the amended game laws passed at this session and called the Treasurer's attention to the requirement regarding the issuing of licenses to foreign born citizens. Under this new interpretation all naturalized citizens seeking a license are required to present their naturalization papers and the Treasurer is directed to withhold such licenses until same is produced or the applicant satisfies him he is native-born.

The new law requires that all licenses be issued by the Treasurer direct instead of by Justices of the Peace as heretofore and provides for the supplying of application blanks to the Justices who receive the same fee for filling out and mailing the application as was granted him heretofore for issuing the licenses.

Under the new law the Treasurer is required to make a weekly report to the Game Commission of all licenses issued, together with the identification marks carried by the different applicants.

ROARING SPRINGS WINS FROM CLEARFIELD

The Roaring Springs team defeated the Clearfield team last night by the score of 8-0.

Owing to Milligan's getting the "one way traffic" signs mixed up, the Clearfield team didn't get there till 7:15 P. M. and a five inning game was played. Milligan went up the streets he should have gone down and vice versa. He also had a little other trouble and that was in always turning off on the wrong road.

VARNER OUT ON BAIL

H. J. Varner, the DuBois man who has been in jail since Saturday on information made by Juvenile Officer Leavy, alleging a very serious crime against morality, was before Judge Bell this morning on a writ of habeas corpus and was admitted to bail in the sum of $3500. Bond was furnished by G. W. Smyers, of DuBois.

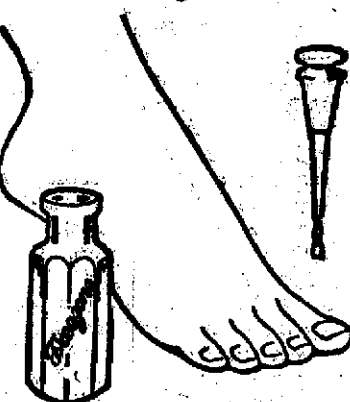

At the hearing it developed that Varner's daughter had been summoned to the office of Attorney McCall for the defense and closely questioned about the case and was told by the attorney that the telling of her story in court if it sent her father to the penitentiary might possibly result in her going to a reform school.

District Attorney Arnold and Judge Bell assured the little girl to the contrary and in the argument the District Attorney severely arraigned the counsel for his unethical conduct. Judge Bell also scored the unfair methods alleged against the attorney for the defense and said that fact alone would warrant or move him in holding the defendant for court.

Your Kiddie Deserves Correct Eyesight

He's going to start school in about three weeks. He's going to put his eyes under conditions that have never been met before. Don't start him in under the handicap of incorrect vision. If you've noticed a squint, noticed that he has to hold a picture or printed matter too close; that he complains of headaches—bring him to me. I don't take the kiddies' word for what they see. I use instruments that unfold eye troubles to me as plain as a printed page.

Remember, if you don't need glasses you cannot buy them from me.

Put Stomach In Fine Condition

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hydrochloric acid; meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heart-burn, flatulence, water-brain or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescent and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While re-

CANADIAN MONEY NOT ACCEPTED AT PAR AT BUFFALO

Buffalo for the first time in history is charging discount on Canadian money. For many years at Buffalo and other cities along the Canadian border large quantities of Canadian money have been in circulation and there has never been any discount charged upon it and it circulated freely on a par with the coin of United States. In some portions of Maine near the border more Canadian money was to be found than that of the United States and at Detroit the Canadian coins were equally as plentiful as those of Uncle Sam.

Since the war this is changed. The English pound sterling on which the Canadian coins are based has fallen in value in the United States markets of trade and the cities of the country began to pour their Canadian coins and bills into the border cities. The result was that the banks in the border towns began to accumulate a surplus of the Canadian money and at its depreciated value it became too much to handle. Hence the rule went out for discount to be charged.

Several years ago it was customary in DuBois to allow only 20 cents for a Canadian quarter and only forty cents for a Canadian fifty cent piece. Of late years, however, the Canadian coins have been accepted for full value. It is possible that as a result of the depreciation that the lower value will again be established.

The estimated production of leather—raw product and manufactures—in America this year will reach in value $76,346,272. Of this amount it is estimated that $157,742,329 will be sent abroad. Ships have taken, up to July 1, $105,449,825 in value. With five exporting months left, the estimated total is conservative.

Important leather interests admit that 20 per cent. of the total production value goes to profiteers. Thus, they will gain more than $175,000,000 this year, while the leather trade is preparing the public for a rise in the price of shoes to $25 a pair.

It follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes!
